State Flora's Propagation Nursery at Murray Bridge

State Flora is a specialist grower of Australian plants in tubes for:

- Gardens
- Amenity
- Ornamental
- Landscaping
- Windbreaks
- Shade
- Biodiversity
- Provenance
- Wetlands
- Dry areas
- Shelterbelts
- Coastal regions
- Bird attracting plants
- Local species for specific sites
- Understorey plants
- Plantation Forestry
- Salt affected sites
- Cut flower production

The tubes are tapered with a 50mm diameter at the top and are 125mm deep. They have root trainers that create a robust, well structured root system. This eliminates root spiralling ensuring the plants will prosper when planted. There are two tube colours.

Black, which are plants grown from seed and Green which are the more difficult to propagate plants which includes those grown from cuttings.
